Move Smart! Think Smart!

Perform these five-minute movements daily for better focus and coordination. Do one new movement a week.

1

Draw with both hands. Begin at the two middle dots. Hold a pencil in each hand. Draw circles by moving your right hand downward and left hand upward together. Continue with each pair of dots until all are joined.

2

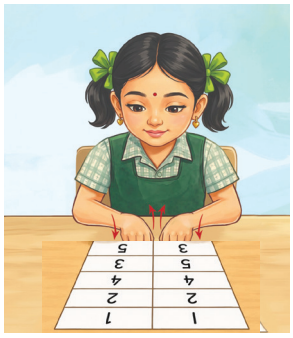

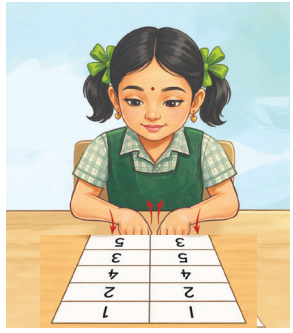

Using both hands, draw the opposite sides of the same shape simultaneously. Move the left hand downward and the right hand upward together.

3

Fold your fingers. Tap both wrists together twice. Open the matching number of fingers on both hands at the same time using the number chart. Continue with all the number pairs.

4

Make fists on the green circles, open both hands on the purple handprints, turn both hands sideways on the orange bars, then close your fists and return to the green circles. Repeat.
