

Trees – The Home of Many Living Beings

I eat your fruits every day
Can I live on your trunk and stay?

On your trunk I peck away
Can I live on your trunk and stay?

Slowly chewing my grass, I stay
May I rest in your shade everyday?

Branch to branch I run and play
Will you let me do that everyday?

Caw, caw, I sing on your branches high
May I build my nest beneath the sky?

Awake at night, I take my flight
I rest in your hollow when it's light?

Dear tree, dear tree, strong and tall
May we swing and play with all?

Come, come dear friends one and all!
I have place to welcome you all!
